The route ran along Fifth avenue, Market street and Third avenue to Reynolds street, where the command halted in an open field.

Owing to a delay caused by the breaking down of a commissary wagon the main tent was not raised until 9 o'clock, but a supper of bread, coffee and meat was served in the open air. The arrangements for the encampment are very poor. Fifteen recruits joined at Duquesne this afternoon, and a number more enlisted to-night.

The question of sufficient food is becoming more and more important, as the mountain regions will be entered by Sunday and then long marches and small towns will be the order. Coxey claims to have enough to carry the army through. Another change in the route is probable, as it is announced that a mistake in the published route has been discovered.

Coxey and Browne addressed a large meeting at Altmeyer's theater here to-night, but the cause of good roads and reincarnation met with but slight sympathy. To-morrow the command leaves at 9 for Camp Brandywine at Monongahela City, stopping for dinner at Elizabeth.

AMONG THE STRIKERS.

Mutterings of Riot and Anarchy, But no Overt Acts.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 6.—The strikers have decided to try to prevent the resumption of work to-morrow morning at Frick's Red Stone works at Brownfield and at Rainey's Mt. Graddock works. A member of Company C of the National Guards was attacked by strikers this evening and a red flag was raised at a meeting of the strikers. Nothing serious resulted and all is quiet now.

A mob met here this afternoon and decided to meet at Oliver, near this place, after midnight and march to Frick's Red Stone works. The sheriff's deputies are watching the movements of the mob closely. The authorities will start for Red Stone in advance of the strikers and will be there to receive the mob when it arrives. The sheriff's forces are well armed and are prepared for any interference. There is likely to be a conflict.

AN IMMIGRATION SCHEME.

Desirable Additions to Be Made to Colorado's Population.

CHICAGO, April 6. A number of prominent British Americans have inaugurated the British-American Colorado colony, members of which met last night at the Grand Pacific. The object is to establish a settlement of English, Scotch, Canadian and North of Ireland people who are now gaining a mere subsistence in some of the large cities as mechanics, etc., in Phillips and Logan counties, Colorado, and George Bain, Peter Craigmile and Peter Miller will leave Chicago Tuesday night with a view of making arrangements with certain parties in Omaha and Denver to secure farms for between 250 and 300 families. About 50 per cent. of these families are residents of Chicago, and others are Highlanders in Canada and Duluth, Minn.

The plan is to give these people an opportunity to buy good farms at low figures, with no security, and to give also to one member of each family his traveling expenses and $100 each as a start. The counties selected are near the mining country so that the farmers may secure work in the mines during the winter. James Murison, A. Gordon Murray and other well-known British Americans are interested in the company and in a way make themselves responsible for the payments due from those sent out. They will not make money out of it themselves in any way. The farms that will be purchased were taken up some years ago by Easterners, who perfected their claims, and are now anxious to get rid of the land for the money they put into it.

M'SLOY ARRESTED.

A Leader of the Pennsylvania Strikers Now in Jail.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 6, Jonnie McSloy, the fugitive labor agitator, charged with complicity in the murder of Joseph H. Paddock, was arrested here this evening. His arrest created considerable excitement. The citizens are very much down on him, as they hold him largely responsible for the present strike. Threats were heard on all sides, but the officers hurried the agitator to the lockup. Later, fearing the mob might wreak their vengeance on McSloy, the officers secretly took him out of town in the darkness and walked to Moyer where they put him on the train and took him to Uniontown.

When visited in the lockup McSloy said he had no connection with the strike in any capacity; was not a member of the executive committee; had nothing to do with the circular issued last Saturday calling the men out on a general strike and was not at Davidson when Paddock was killed. McSloy was very much excited and wept like a child as he told his story.

Thought It was Water.

OMAHA, April 6.—At 4 o'clock this morning, Mrs. Paul Larsen, living at Twentieth and Spring streets, while at work in the kitchen, picked up a pitcher and poured the contents, which she supposed to be water, into a kettle on the stove. The liquid proved to be gasoline and an explosion followed, the burning liquid being thrown all over the room. Mrs. Larsen's clothing ignited as did those of her baby, who was in the room. Both were badly burned, as was also Mrs. Larsen's sister who ran to their assistance. The house was but slightly damaged.

Recommends a Reprieve.

DENVER, April 6. The board of pardon recommends a reprieve of thirty days in the cases of Torrez, Nesbit and Jordan under sentence to be executed during the week beginning April 22.

The case of Alfred Packer, the noted cannibal convict serving a life sentence was advanced to the first upon the list for the next meeting. The case of Leitch, head an express agent of Salida, serving a year for forgery was advanced to second on the list.

How Death Conquered.

WARSAW, Ind., April 6.—Abraham Felter, said to be over 100 years old, met death in a horrible manner near here to-day. He was struck by a Pennsylvania freight train, his head severed from his body and scooped upon the pilot and one of his arms thrown among the telegraph wires, where it lodged.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

R. G. Dun's & Co's Weekly Commercial Summary.

BUSINESS IS IMPROVING.

Failures are Still Numerous, But the Amount of Liabilities is Small—Exports Continue Large and Imports Show a Decrease.

NEW YORK, April 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade to-morrow will say: Improvement in business has continued since the President's veto, which has been sustained in the House. But the best news of the week is the great decrease in the number and importance of failures. The number was 2090 in January, 1202 in February and 1005 in March. The commercial liabilities were $31,320,867 in January, $17,080,119 in February and $11,730,893 in March. Nearly half the commercial liabilities were of firms failing during the first month; much more than half of the trading liabilities, 51 per cent. as the full statement shows, 42 per cent. of the manufacturing liabilities and 49 per cent. of the other commercial liabilities. Moreover, nearly two-thirds of the banking liabilities were of failures in the first month, and over half of the railroad liabilities. Though the number of commercial failures, 4297 in the United States, was never equalled in any quarter except the third of last year, the average of liabilities is only $14,890, which is lower than has appeared in the records of thirty-eight years at any time closely succeeding any serious reverse. The degree of commercial soundness and health thereby indicated gives ground for hope that the liquidations consequent upon the disaster of 1893 have been in a large measure accomplished.

The signs of continued improvement are more distinct than in the previous week, and are found elsewhere rather than in speculative markets.

There is more buying for consumption with more numerous demands for immediate replacement of stocks, which does not stimulate an advance in prices, because consumption as yet by no means suffices to employ all the productive capacity, but affords the safest basis for production. There is some further increase in the working force employed in woolen manufacture and shoe factories, though not this week in the cotton mills, and the gain in iron work is small, although the strike of Connellsville coke workers may not interrupt the manufacture for some weeks, as supplies on hand are said to be large. Prices in that industry are little changed.

Symptoms of change in money markets appear to indicate an increasing volume of trade. In Wall street there appears a somewhat larger supply of commercial paper from the interior, not of the first quality nor of large amounts, but enough to suggest that available funds in other markets have at last found more full employment. But the accumulation of idle money here does not yet diminish. Foreign exchange has suddenly advanced to the point at which gold could not be exported without loss, owing to cessation of foreign purchases of stocks, but some gold is known to have been ordered for shipment.

The exports of products from New York continue fairly large, but do not greatly exceed last year's, while the imports for the week were 13 per cent. less than a year ago. Customs receipts are still 41 per cent. less than last year for the month thus far, and internal receipts 7 per cent. less.

There has been quite a flurry in the silver market, New York speculators having made game of the London market and the smelters also, but nothing appears to warrant a substantial increase.

The usual quarterly payments, which vary with the condition of business less than settlements on currency account swelled exchanges for the first week of April, so that the decrease compared with last year was at all points 19.5 per cent., at New York 21.2 per cent., and outside this city 16.7 per cent. Whether this is the beginning of lasting improvement it is too early to determine. But there is no decided gain in railroad earnings, which decreased 11.4 per cent. for the first week in April, against 12 per cent. in March.

The failures for the past week have been 219 in the United States against 195 last year and 26 in Canada against 28 last year.

New York Stock Market.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Money on call has been easy at 1 per cent; last loan at 1 and closed offered at 1 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 3½@4 per cent.

The dealings at the Stock Exchange to-day were characterized by marked strength without, however, any material increase in the volume of transactions, the sales aggregating 213,588 shares against 210,000 yesterday.

The day's business in railway bonds was again heavy, $2,274,000 being the aggregate amount.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—A vote in the Senate to-day on a motion offered by Mr. Hill to adjourn until Monday, which was defeated 20 to 25, seemed to have some bearing as showing the strength of the tariff members who want continuous business. After the vote Mr. Teller Teller (Rep.) of Colorado addressed the Senate on the resolution offered by Mr. Wolcott (Rep.) of Colorado last Monday, requesting the President to negotiate with Mexico looking to the coinage by the United States, at its mints of standard Mexican dollars, "with a view to encouraging and extending commercial relations with China and other Asiatic countries."

He said that last year the Mexican government had coined 26,000,000 silver dollars, and that of that sum 25,000,000 had been exported. Between six and seven millions had gone to China and the Strait Settlements by way of Suez Canal, and 8,500,000 by way of San Francisco. It was claimed, he said, that China had exported to other portions of Asia within the last ten years more silver than it had taken in. That lack of silver now, he thought, would be made up if put in a form acceptable to China, and thus the trade with that country could be largely increased.

Mr. Lodge (Rep.) of Massachusetts advocated the resolution in the idea of attacking England in its colonial and eastern trade. In his judgment nothing could help England so much in her present difficulties as to open the American market under the proposed tariff bill. He would strike her in her colonial trade. He would strike her in her Cape diamonds, her Assam and Ceylon and her Australian wool; and he would thus force England to take the view of this question which the people of the United States believed to be, not only for their interests, but for the interests of trade, of good prices, of better markets, all over the world. If there was any opportunity to make England come to any agreement, either by discriminating duties against her, or by opening a wider market for silver, it was clearly for the benefit of the United States that it should be put in operation. [Applause in the galleries.]

Mr. Dubois (Rep.) of Idaho also supported the resolution, which went over without action.

HOUSE.

In the House to day the bill was passed authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to lease hotel sites in the Yellowstone park. This, Mr. Hayes (Dem.) of Iowa, who presented the measure, said was needed for public accommodation. Mr. Hayes indulged in some lively fish stories in reciting the glories of Yellowstone park, and after a little fun in which Mr. Allen, the Mississippi joker, confirmed Mr. Hayes's trout-catching yarns, the bill was passed. A change from these pleasantries manifested itself when after a roll call on a measure providing for a clerical appointment to one of the Senate committees, Mr. Reed criticizing a decision of the speaker regarding an interruption of the roll call, said it was strange to have the roll call interrupted even by unanimous consent. The speaker said: "The gentleman from Maine objects. Call the roll."

"Then," said Mr. Reed, emphatically, "the gentleman from Maine does not object." The speaker remarked that the ex-speaker did.

Mr. Reed—My statement will go into The Record.

The Speaker "So will that of the chair." Then Mr. Reed retorted, "And the public will be able to judge. It is a question of veracity." This closed the incident and the resolution was passed. Another wave of trouble was a complaint by the newly-seated member from Missouri, that Mr. Morgan, another Missouri Democrat, had done him certain injustice, when the retort came that O'Neill had better restrict himself to the duties that Joy had been elected to perform. The postoffice appropriation bill occupied the further attention of the House until a recess at 4:55 for an evening session to consider pensions.

A CELEBRATED CASE.

Progress of the Pollard-Breckenridge Trial at Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 6. The curtain was rung down on the most interesting scenes of the Pollard-Breckenridge case to-day, when the last of the evidence was submitted to the jury. It was a sort of clearing up day like the last act in a play when explanations and reconciliations are in order, and the session of the Circuit court differed from the drama's conclusion only in the absence of an adjustment of the difference of the principal actors. That will be left to the jury.

Colonel Breckenridge was the last witness of the trial. Like Miss Pollard, who had preceded him, he denied pretty much everything she and her witnesses had said, just as she had most emphatically denied all his leading statements and those put forward on his behalf.

To-morrow prayers for instructions to the jury will be submitted to Judge Bradley and arguments thereon will consume the day. Monday the arguments to the jury will begin. The case may perhaps go to the jury on Wednesday but probably not until Thursday. Mr. Calderon Carlisle will open for the plaintiff and Col. Phil Thompson for the defendant. Maj. Ben Butterworth will make the closing argument for the defendant and Judge Wilson will close the case with his argument for the plaintiff.

Chicago Street Car Held Up.

CHICAGO, April 6. An attempt was made in Jesse James style to rob the passengers on a North Halsted street horse car after midnight last night by seven men. The gang pried a part of the rails of a switch at Halsted and Division streets, so that when the car came along, it was derailed. While the conductor and driver were trying to lift the car back on the track four of the highwaymen rushed into the car and shouted to the sleepy passengers to hold up their hands and give up their valuables. Otto Herzog was too dazed to comply and a robber pushed his head through the window glass. The shouts of the passengers attracted police officers who caught the four robbers in the car.

The Latest in the Denver Muddle.

DENVER, April 6. On a claim made that the answer of Orr and Martin in the quo warranto proceedings in the Supreme Court admits that they are not the de facto or the de jure Fire and Police Commissioners, Attorney General Engley to-day submitted to the court a motion for a writ of ouster to compel them to make way for Barnes and Mullins. Mr. Taylor, for Orr and Martin, this afternoon began his argument in refutation of the ouster demand. He consumed several hours, being followed by Platt Rogers. The Supreme Court took the argument under advisement.

Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—For Saturday Generally fair; winds shifting to the south.

ABOUT THE CITY.

The Book Carnival at the Coburn Library.

A VERY SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR.

A Considerable Sum Realized for the New Library—Other Local News—Miss Whitney's Marriage Colorado College News Notes.

The Book carnival at the Coburn library last night was a decided success in every respect. Fully six hundred people were present.

The circulating library was the main feature of the evening and in it were many of the most interesting volumes of both ancient and modern dates.

The guests who desired to take part dressed themselves so that they in some way represented the title of a book, and prizes were offered those who made the most correct guesses on the titles. Many of the costumes showed much thought and ingenuity in their arrangement. There were other interesting features. A booth was fitted up in Japanese style that attracted much attention. The fortune teller also was a decided success and all who tried to look into the future through this medium had no reason to regret it.

All who wished to take part in the guessing contest were provided with lists with the numbers of the books on them, and were seen making their way through the crowd trying to guess the names of the different books, and there were a number of amusing guesses. About one hundred and thirty books were circulating about the room, and made a very pretty sight. Among the books that were represented were: "Ancient and Modern Times," "Water Babies," "Innocents Abroad," "Rose in Bloom," "Nicholas Nickleby," "The Heavenly Twins," "White Wings," "The Complete Angler," "A Bow of Orange Ribbon," "Prince and the Pauper," "Twice-Told Tales," "The Red Gauntlet," "My Wife and I," "As in a Looking Glass," "Little Red Riding-Hood," "Black Beauty," "Plain Tales from the Hills," "The First Violin," "Gold Elsie," "Being a Boy," "A Rose and a Ring," "Great Expectations," "Acres Lots," "Rob Roy," "A Crown of Wild Olive," "A Knight of the Nineteenth Century," "Shandon Bells," "The Raven," "The Hundredth Man," "The Initials," "A Daughter of the Regiment," and many more, too numerous to mention.

Refreshments, including ice cream and cake, were served in the chapel by such characters as "Queen of Hearts," "Mother Goose" and her flock and others equally well known.

At the close an exciting auction sale of cakes was held.

It will take some time to determine the winners of the prizes, as the guessing was quite general. The first prize is a two-years' subscription to the library, and the second one year's subscription. The book fund will be increased by several hundred dollars as a result of the carnival.

Mrs. Whitney Married.

The following dispatch sent out last night will be read with interest by many friends of the lady in this city:

NEW YORK, April 6. Sarah J. Whitney and Charles W. Norton of Omaha, Neb., first met at Burlington, Ia., years ago and were sweethearts, but a change of fortune separated them. The girl went to New Haven, Conn., with her parents and he went to Omaha, where he became rich. Meanwhile the girl had married Ernest Whitney, an assistant professor of literature at Yale. She was a leading contralto of Trinity Church, New Haven. Five years ago she went to Colorado. There Mrs. Whitney supported her invalid husband by teaching music until his death from consumption a year ago. Then she returned to this city. The lonely gray-haired man in Omaha, who had carried her image in his heart through the years that divided them, heard that she was free, hurried here and renewed his suit. Last night they were married and took the express for Omaha.

THE FORESTERS.

A Large Lodge of the A. O. F. Instituted Here.

Court No. 8141, Ancient Order of Foresters, met last evening in this city and installed officers. The meeting was held in G. A. R. hall at 8 o'clock and was called to order by Mr. B. M. Legg, High Court Ranger. He was assisted by the following officers of Pike's Peak Court No. 8139 of Manitou; B. H. Jones C. R., Mr. G. W. Cates S. C. R., Mr. Vaddigan S. W., Mr. Harrington J. W., Mr. Cook and others. This courts starts out with a membership of 140 and will be the largest court in this State. The following officers were installed last night: J. S. Gibson C. R., S. H. Gailbreth S. C. R., W. R. Graham secretary, M. F. Warren treasurer, H. E. Vest S. W., J. Edwards J. W., J. H. Spoor J. B., H. Karitzky J. B. The court physician will be Dr. Christopher. The Ancient Order of Forresters is over 150 years old and has a large membership throughout the country. It is a benevolent order and distributes large sums to the members every year.

This court was organized by Mr. B. M. Legg of San Francisco, but who has recently come here to reside and will use his large experience to make the court a great success. A meeting is to be held at Colorado City next Monday night to organize a court.

Manager Barnett of The Antlers in speaking of the travel to Colorado said that March and April are becoming the best months of the year. He says that the increase has been gradual for years. Five years ago, when he took the house, there were not forty guests in April. Yesterday he had 100 guests. It is the return travel from the Pacific coast. The Alamo hotel is also full of people every night and the same can be said of the other hotels.

People who call at police headquarters often wonder what the electric enunciator on the walls is for. The enunciator has four indicators and they are marked "First National," "Exchange National," and "El Paso," the other words the three banks are connected with the police station by electricity. You push a button at the bank and the police come swooping down to arrest anyone in sight. In one of the banks the arrangement is such that if a robber enters and orders the paying teller to put up his hands he can touch the button with his hands in the air. Then there are buttons under the counters, etc. This precaution was taken last summer, at the time the Starr gang was here.

COLORADO COLLEGE.

"Below Zero" will be a great success. The Operetta company is showing the effects of practice.

A number of the students were out the city during the Easter holidays.

Prof. Wm. M. Hall gave his lecture on "Elections," on last Wednesday afternoon.

A large audience heard the Rev. Kerr B. Tupper D. D. of Denver, last Sunday.

The third in the series of sermons will be given by the Right Rev. Dean Hart D. D. of Denver on "The Bible a Sufficient Revelation."

The College has given the old library room in Palmer hall to the several literary societies of the Academy and College. Quite a sum of money is to be expended for the purpose of fitting it up for society use.

On Thursday afternoon Prof. Cragin gave the second in the series of popular lectures. His subject was "Old Oceans and Lakes," and he treated it in a very able manner. The next in the series will be given next Thursday afternoon by Prof. Wm. Strieby, on "Ventilation Through Chimneys and Fire-places."

A suit filed in the County Court yesterday is entitled L. H. McVicker vs. V. E. Rouse. The plaintiff alleges that defendant sold to him 500 shares of stock in a company to be formed which should own the Elkton and other claims. He paid $5 down and was to pay $45 more. The company was formed, but he says he never got his stock. The stock is now worth about 75 cents per share. He sues to recover the stock.

A NEGRO'S NOMINATION.

It is Now Being Considered by the National Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The question of confirming Mr. C. H. J. Taylor, the negro Democrat from Kansas, who, after being rejected as minister to Bolivia, had been nominated to the important office of recorder of deeds of the District of Columbia to succeed the colored occupant of that office, ex-Senator B. K. Bruce of Mississippi was brought before the Senate committee on the District of Columbia this morning. A strong fight is being made by Washington Democrats against the confirmation of Taylor on the ground that his nomination is a violation of the "home rule" plank of the Chicago platform.

Six members of the committee this morning decided by a vote of four to two, so far as they were concerned, that they would make an unfavorable report on the nomination. This action will, however, be held in abeyance in order to permit the other five members of the committee to vote.

He Won't Allow It.

DENVER, April 6. Governor Waite is quoted as saying anent the proposition to allow the Corbett-Jackson fight to come off in this State: "There are laws in this State against this sort of thing and they must and shall be obeyed. If they try to come out here and the attempt is made to break the law I shall surely clean out the whole lot of them. It seems to me we have enough trouble out here without a lot of scoundrels and thugs coming to disturb our peace. I won't allow it, that's all."

A High Price.

Every safe manufacturer has attached to his force expert locksmiths, whose duties consist in opening safes which have gotten out of order.

Many of the accidents to safes occur from the gross carelessness of their owners, and at times the honest safe crackers enjoy a quiet laugh at the expense of a group of bank officers or the proprietor of some important establishment.

Not long since a large manufacturer telegraphed to a New York safemaker, requesting that a man be sent at once to his place of business, a town about 50 miles from the city.

Upon reaching his destination the expert, with his kit of tools, repaired to the establishment and was informed that the vault, an old fashioned affair, which locked with a key and which contained the safe and books of the concern, could not be opened.

The man examined the lock and then the key, opened his kit, took out a bit of wire and began to dig a mass of dirt, dust and lint out of the key. Then he inserted it in the lock, and while the proprietor, with a sickly smile, looked on, turned the implement and opened the door.

"What's your charge?" asked the manufacturer.

"Fifty dollars," replied the expert.

"Does any one know you are in town?"

"No."

"Well, then, here's $60," remarked the manufacturer. "I'll give you $10 extra if you'll take the first train back to New York without telling any one the price I've paid to have a man dig dirt out of a key for me."—New York Herald.

A Scenic Route.

"What are the objects of special interest around here?" asked a party of tourists going through Arkansas on horseback.

"Waal, thar's various things with lookin at. Thar's Bud Jackson's bull pup, only 6 months, an kin lick any year old dog in these parts. And then thar's Si Dobson's twins; both of 'em got 12 toes an 12 fingers. An if ye wanter see a real curiosity ye orter ride over to old Ben Hobbs' an see a calf o' hisn with four horns an no tail—yes, siree! An I kin pilot you to the identikal spot whar Bob Higgins an Bill Jeffries fit a duel with corncutters."

But the tourists had piloted themselves on their way, and the native said in a tone of disgust:

"Reckon they're lookin fer waterfalls an natchrel bridges an mounting lakes an trash o' that sort. Some folks is queer." Detroit Free Press.

REPUBLICANS AND SILVER.

Some of the few monometallist organs of the East are affecting to believe that the silver question is now finally settled, and that no more will be heard of the silver agitation. Never was anybody more entirely mistaken. The signs of a revival of interest in the silver question in the East are multiplying on every hand, especially, we are glad to say, in the Republican papers, and there is no doubt that this question will be more to the front than ever in the next campaign.

The Republican party is pledged by all its platforms to the cause of bimetallism, and in the coming campaign this pledge, we venture to say, will be made more prominent than ever before. The Republicans of the East, no less than those of the West, desire the restoration of silver. This desire has found expression in the repeated attempts of Republican Presidents to secure international co-operation in the work of silver remonetization.

In a recent editorial, the New York Press said:

"It is important that consideration should be given to the question. Is there not now something like an opportunity for Republican movement in the direction of such affiliation with the silver men as may produce a compromise measure that will permit harmonious action in other directions upon national legislation? Such men as Senators Hoar and Lodge and Aldrich and Allison may have it in their power to prepare the way for a union of forces which may contain some good promise for the future of bimetallism. The sentiment for silver remonetization is continually gaining strength. Unless all signs fail it will be even stronger in November than it is now. Under such circumstances Republicans of all shades of opinion with respect to bimetallism may find advantage in adopting a policy that will insure the defeat of the Democratic attempt to destroy tariff protection in the interest of the British nation, which gives to gold monometallism all the force it possesses.

This is the view that is taken of this matter by the great majority of eastern Republicans. They have not always agreed with western Republicans as to the best way in which to advance the interests of silver, but we believe that they are real bimetallists, and that their desire for a reform of the present financial situation will find expression in unmistakable terms in the next Republican platform.

Now that the facts can be sifted out of the South Carolina muddle, it seems that the resistance to Tillman was mainly on the ground that he sent his dispensary spies to search private residences on suspicion. This is a clear violation of the Constitution of the United States, and illustrates forcibly Tillman's disregard of the most fundamental principles of a free government. The old maxim that a man's house is his castle cannot be safely disregarded even by a Farmers' Alliance despot in South Carolina without getting him into trouble. Remarking on this episode, the New York Sun says:

"The overstraining of the powers of the State is at the bottom of the whole difficulty. Freedom and the Populist-Socialist State cannot coexist. Only military force can keep together a State in which the majority is engaged in oppressing the minority, and a political faction has installed itself in power and uses all the powers of the State for its own advantage. The Populist theory results in violence wherever it is rigidly applied. This has been the case in Kansas and Colorado. The Governors of Kansas and Colorado are cranks. The Governor of South Carolina is a determined, shrewd, and relentless politician, with no genuine odor of the fanatic about him.

The bill which has been introduced into the United States Senate by Wolcott, suspending for this year the law which requires a certain amount of assessment work to be done on mining claims, does not seem to meet with much favor among the miners. The experience of the past year has been rather against the advisability of such a suspension.

The British have at last made a show of doing their share toward carrying out the mandates of the Bering Sea commission. The bill which has been passed in Parliament is not entirely satisfactory, but it is a great deal better than nothing. Our Senate has passed Mr. Morgan's bill on the same subject, so that now there is some prospect that pelagic sealing may be stopped for the remainder of the season. The Canadian poachers will of course attempt to go on with their nefarious work, but if the British will co-operate in earnest with our authorities in patroling the north Pacific, the wanton destruction of seal life may be pretty effectually stopped.

The Sunday Herald is a new Cripple Creek paper which announces that it has come to stay. That announcement is generally fatal. We do not expect The Herald to last very long.

Pueblo went so overwhelmingly Republican that she even beat Colorado Springs a little. We will try to make up the difference next time.

Who said Rhode Island was a doubtful State?

Chicago the Modern Pallas.

Discussing Massachusetts's new holiday, April 19, the anniversary of Lexington, the Boston Post, in pride of ancestral glories, plumes itself and orates: "Had there been no Lexington there would have been no Yorktown; there would to-day be no Chicago, no empire on the Pacific coast." No Chicago? Excuse us. We know our business. From the Jovian thought tank of time this lacustrine Minerva was preparing to bound before the first bean was sowed in John Alden's garden patch. We, a dull historical sequence, a prosaic evolution! Not much. Time said "Be thou," and forthwith we began business with thirty-two teeth and a gas trust.—[The Inter-Ocean.

RELIGIOUS WORLD.

Notes and Comments by the Rev. Jas. D. Gregg, D. D.

"Rev. Sam Jones," revivalist, occasionally says a pithy thing. For example: "Many people are troubled over the mysteries of religion; but it is the things I thoroughly understand, and especially the Ten Commandments, that worry me."

Says Rev. T. T. Munger D. D., of New Haven, the distinguished preacher and writer, the author of "The Freedom of Faith," "On the Threshold," etc:

"Shakespeare did not speak of the weakening effect of tobacco, because he knew nothing about it, having lived too early; but our wise men are now putting it beside the other two. In nothing are physicians more thoroughly agreed than that the use of tobacco in the years before twenty lessens the vital forces, weakens the body, and sows the seeds of disease. A young man of eighteen who smokes burns up more than tobacco; he consumes life itself, and ever after has less of it. He is spending more than money in the purchase of cigars; he is paying out the real capital of life."

"It is pleasant to be able to state that this is getting to be understood where young men 'most do congregate.' In Yale college less than a quarter of the students smoke, and, with some exceptions, it is the quarter most nearly worthless in both mental and physical respects. As a rule, those who know what they are about, and are taking life earnestly, do not smoke. Those who have caught the athletic spirit (which is something quite different from betting on the games) know that smoking and athletics are sworn enemies. The studious understand that it means a clouded brain and an indolent spirit, and there are not a few who have learned that it means poor eyesight, an uncertain pulse, an unsteady hand, a stunted growth, and a general tendency to emasculation. There are still a few to be seen on the streets, sallow, vacant eyed, heavy-gaited, thin-limbed, generally of short stature, smoking pipes under the delusion that it is very English-like; but the resemblance begins and ends here."

That only one-fourth of the Yale college students smoke will surprise many of our readers, but Dr. Munger, one would say, is not the man to make such a statement in the public prints, without knowing whereof he affirms.

Says The Christian Register: "In these days of scientific curiosity it is necessary to protect the humane sentiment from the dangers to which it is exposed; and we are glad to find Harper's Weekly uttering a protest against the practice of introducing the dissection of cats and dogs before classes of young pupils in the secular schools. Such studies belong to professional schools, not to a public school course. Harper's Weekly truly says: 'Such an over-zealous application of the 'scientific method' is fit to appear only in that sorry system of pedagogics which makes light of sentiment and considers the goal of education to be the acquisition of bare facts. In a broader view, it must appear that such gruesome exhibitions will have a most unwholesome effect upon the mind of a child, tending to strengthen rather than repress its selfish and cruel instincts. The child who has been taught through 'scientific' demonstrations to regard a pet cat or dog as an animated machine, with contracting muscles and blood-propelling heart and bile-secreting liver, instead of as a living being possessed of feelings and emotions something akin to its own, can never again regard the sacred mystery of life in quite the same light as before. It has gained knowledge of very doubtful value at the expense of a distinct ethical sacrifice. Far better might that child remain ignorant of the appearances of vital organs than lose its awe for the vital principle that animates them. If physiological experiments must enter into the scheme of the modern system of education, let them at least be deferred until moral principles are firmly grounded."

Mr. Gladstone has often spoken of the immeasurable value to himself of his Sunday rest. From Saturday to Monday morning his fixed custom has been to put away all business of a secular nature. He keeps special Sunday books and occupations, and never dines out on that day unless to cheer a sick or sorrowful friend. He never travels on Sunday, and when Queen Victoria invites him to Windsor castle on Sunday for one night, he makes arrangements to stay in Windsor Saturday night to avoid Sunday traveling.

A Refusal.

"No," said the young woman haughtily in response to his request as they sat on the porch in the twilight, "I will not let you hold my hand. I don't believe in such conduct for a young lady.

"And besides," she added after a pause, "it isn't dark enough yet."—Chicago Record.

STATE PRIDE HURT.

THE LOCAL INTERESTS OF PROTECTION SET FORTH.

A Manufacturer Talks to His Congressman. Dealing With Producer and Consumer. The State Value of Local Industries. Benefit to Farmers.

Hon. J. C. Tarsney, Washington:

MY DEAR SIR—It is said that the man that makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before is a public benefactor, and if this be true, as it undoubtedly is, a corporation that has converted a few hundred acres of virtually unproductive farming land into a thriving manufacturing village, giving support and employment to 3,000 people, is certainly a benefactor to the state and county in which such industry is located.

Now, the simple fact is that where Crystal City is located was formerly a sparsely settled farming community, with one country store, the annual sales of which represented an aggregate of not over $3,000 or $4,000, with no market for the farmer's produce other than was to be found in the exchange of that produce for such "store goods" as his family required for the year.

At this same place we now have substantial buildings covering 40 acres of ground and in these buildings furnaces and machinery which have produced a product the sale of which since 1877, when our works were first started, has brought into this state the enormous sum of $10,000,000; or, to be more exact, up to the 30th day of August last the sum of $9,878,976.08, not a dollar of which would have come into this state but for the existence of our works at Crystal City.

It is reasonable to suppose, and I believe it to be a fact, that the larger portion of this additional wealth thus brought into our state has been distributed among the various other mercantile and manufacturing interests, chiefly here in St. Louis, that furnish the personal and household supplies required by our employees, as well as such articles as we ourselves use in the course of our business.

Not only this, the farmers all around our works now have a regular and steady market at St. Louis retail cash prices for all of the produce they choose to raise—chickens, eggs, butter, pork, flour, hay, corn, oats—in fact, everything that a farm produces—while the taxes we have paid in Jefferson county have enabled its officials to reduce the rate of assessment, and at the same time have assisted in providing such increase in the school fund as has enabled the commissioners to extend the means of education.

Other counties north, south and west of us remain just as they have been for years past, simply because of the absence of just some such industry as we have planted in Jefferson county.

Now as to the consumer of plate glass. Our records show that we are today getting for our glass just 70 per cent less than we received for it 10 years ago, and this is explained by the introduction of improved methods of manufacture.

All the materials we use are now obtained either in our own state or in this country with the single exception of soda ash, which we have to import, and the duty on which, upon the amount we annually use, equals from $11,000 to $12,000.

We do not ask that this duty shall be removed or interfered with one particle, because by reason of this duty some of our countrymen are now establishing plants for the manufacture of soda ash in the United States, the successful development and operation of which will ultimately bring about such a production of domestic soda ash as will enable us to get it relatively as much cheaper in the near future as we are now furnishing plate glass to consumers if the same protective policy is continued with respect to soda ash as has been in force with respect to plate glass. In other words, we wish to see American industries developed to the fullest extent, believing the ultimate result to be a reduction of cost in each case to the consumer.

As a practical illustration of this, in addition to plate glass, you will be interested in knowing that when we first started our works we had to import our felt, for polishing the glass, from England at a cost of $1.25 to $1.50 per pound.

The protection given this industry in America during the last 10 years has enabled those engaged in it to so develop it that at the present time we buy American made felt of just as good quality as that made in England at about 70 cents a pound, or a reduction of nearly one-half of what we formerly paid.

I assure you in all sincerity that my statement to the committee—namely, that any reduction in the rate of duty on plate glass must inevitably result in a reduction of wages paid our employees—is an absolute fact, as we have come to the end, in the way of reducing cost, in every other direction, and you know what this would mean quite as well as I do, not only to us, as manufacturers, but to the country at large and more especially to the party by whose action such reduction of wages would be rendered a necessity.

Do not understand me for one moment, however, as urging you to consider this matter from a partisan standpoint. I simply ask you as a matter of state pride, and more particularly because of the enormous benefits our industry has conferred upon a large number of the people of our state, to do what you can to have the present schedule on plate glass remain just exactly as it is.

If what I have said is true with respect to our own state, our mutual friend and your colleague—Mr. Bynum—should join you in seeing that this schedule remains unchanged, inasmuch as four large plate glass factories are located in his state, with benefits accruing thereto, which I assume are no less important to the state of Indiana than they are to the state of Missouri. Yours, etc.,

E. A. HITCHCOCK,
President Crystal Plate Glass Co.

News From Other Camps.

Some of the La Plata ore is to be shipped to Philadelphia to be tested.

Four-ounce gold ore has been struck in the Copper Rock, Goose creek, at fifteen feet.

It is claimed that from a ledge 50 feet wide on top of the range north of Pino canon, Cochiti district, panning yielded $100 a ton. An assay showed 130 ounces.

The Creede Board of Trade has subscribed money to build a road to Bear Creek, the new gold camp. Two carloads are awaiting shipment at the Good Hope mine, which has cut a three foot vein of rich tellurium.

NEW YORK SYNDICATE AND $70,000 SALE PRICES
SNOWED UNDER BY THE
New York Cash Store!

You can fool part of the people all the time; you can fool all the people part of the time; but you can't fool all the people all the time.

We can control a $40,000 stock of Dry Goods, but we can't control a $70,000,000 Syndicate.

We do not buy our goods from syndicates, whose yearly membership fees are large, but we go direct to the manufacturer and jobber, who know the value of "sure pay," and nail the bargains which HARD CASH brings forth. We're on the march for more business, and we're getting it by offering new, choice and desirable goods at money-saving prices. You will always find just what we advertise, and plenty of it.

The testimony of the People
Who crowd our Store daily is that we Undersell All Cut Prices.

When you see goods advertised at special or cut prices, come to the New York Cash Store and WE GUARANTEE to sell the same goods (provided we carry them) cheaper.

A $40,000 Stock at your Service. We can't enumerate the entire stock, but we give a few of the numberless bargains which we offer every day.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

MOST PERFECT MADE.

A pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder. Free from Ammonia, Alum or any other adulterant.

40 YEARS THE STANDARD.

A. D. Craigue has certainly struck the key note judging by the crowds flocking to his store. He is selling more goods and at less prices than any other store in the city. His stock is the largest and best selected, in fact equal to any house in the State. He is reliable and his patrons will always get just what they buy. Go and see him and you will be pleased at his extremely low prices and the extra quality of his goods.

Take a box of Huyler's or Whitman's home for Sunday. Wm. McCandlish, 22 North Tejon street.

Further Reduction in Price.
As we must raise some money this week we are making a further reduction in price on CLOTHING AND FURNISHING GOODS. We can not be undersold, as we are positively going out of the Clothing and Furnishing Goods business.
We have the most complete line of MERCHANT TAILORING NOVELTIES ever shown in the State.
J. D. O'HAIRE & CO.,
108 Pike's Peak Avenue.

Second-hand Goods
We are buying more Second-hand Goods than all other dealers combined. Call and see us if you have any goods to sell.
We have just unpacked a lot of new Lounges and Folding Beds. They are nice and cheap.
